It's Official, Spring Is Here

It's spring training time in Florida, and manager Walt Alston of Los Angeles Dodgers loses no time in checking the arms of three of his pitchers, Roger Craig, left, Ed Robuck and Don Bessent, at the Dodgers' Vero Beach training grounds. Players from all major league clubs are well under way in the long grind to get back in shape for the 1959 season. —(CUC)

New York, Milwaukee Favored

Will Yankees Take Tumble?

By JOE REICHLER

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Will the salary squabble between New York players and front office and the disciplinary darts hurled by manager Casey Stengel affect Yankee chances for a fifth straight American League pennant?

Will this be the year of decline for such great but aging stars as Ted Williams, Stan Musial and Warren Spahn?

Will the Milwaukee Braves find a second-base replacement for tuberculosis-ridden Red Schoendienst?

Will there be a pennant race in either league?

These and other questions stood out boldly on the baseball horizon Saturday as the 16 major league teams began to assemble their hired hands for the serious business of preparing for the 1959 season.

A dozen clubs are basing operations in Florida. The others —Cleveland, Boston, San Francisco and the Chicago Cubs— are training in Arizona. A majority of the clubs already have begun. By the end of the week, all will be in action.

To the surprise of no one, the defending champion Yankees and Braves have been installed as odds-on favorites to repeat.

The Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers are regarded as the most improved clubs in the American League. The Yankees, still the class of the rest of the league, are strong everywhere except in left field and perhaps in the bullpen.

Detroit has strengthened its pitching but still needs more punch in the infield and behind the plate. Cleveland has acquired speed and hustle in Jimmy Piersall and Billy Martin and has Herb Score to go with sophomore hurlers Jim Grant and Gary Bell.

LACKING PUNCH

The White Sox, still lacking punch, have the pitching but the burden may again be too great to carry. Al Lopez must get good years out of veterans Nellie Fox, Al Smith, and Shem Lollar, as well as youngsters Luis Aparicio, Jim Landis and Johnny Callison.

Boston finally has done some trading but pitching remains its biggest weakness. The team still figures to be tough as long as Ted Williams is around and able to swing a bat.

The talk around National League camps is "watch out for the Giants." The young upstarts of 1958 are more experienced and have more belief in themselves.

If the 38-year-old Spahn holds up, the Braves' pitching may be even more formidable than it was in 1958.

CATCHER NEEDED

The seventh-place Los Angeles Dodgers figure to be better but they still need a seasoned catcher, a solid shortstop and third baseman, and another outfielder. Pittsburgh came out of nowhere to finish second last year but the Pirates rid themselves of their biggest hitter and run-producer in trading Frank Thomas to Cincinnati. The Pirates are depending too much on the inexperienced Dick Stuart.

Thomas undoubtedly figures to help Cincinnati and could form a murderous one-two punch with Frank Robinson.

BIG JOB

Solly Hemus, the new manager at St. Louis, has a big job on his hands. The Cardinals need more long-ball hitting, a better all-around defence, a shortstop with more punch, and a dependable southpaw.

None of the other clubs — Kansas City, Baltimore and Washington in the American League, and Philadelphia and Chicago in the National — has much of a chance to emerge from the second division.

Bardstown Survives Claim To Win Second Widener

Calumet Farm's Bardstown won his second Widener Handicap at Hialeah Park yesterday, but his backers in a crowd of 34,128 had to sweat out a protest before cashing in their tickets.

Bill Hartack, rider of the second-place Nadir, claimed interference by Bardstown and rider Steve Brooks, but stewards disallowed the protest after watching movies of the $137,600 race. Bardstown won his first Widener in 1957.

The seven-year-old Bardstown, oldest horse in the race, carried top weight of 124 but his time of 2.01 1-5 was only one-fifth of a second off the track record for the mile and a quarter. He earned $87,240 for Calumet, and paid $4.80 to win.

In yesterday's other big race, Finnegan upset the highly-favored Tomy Lee to win the $56,000 San Felipe Handicap at Santa Anita. Tomy Lee, runner-up to First Landing as the best two-year-old in the country last year, went to the post the odds-on favorite.

Finnegan came from far behind to win by a neck under a rousing ride by Bill Harmatz, and paid $26.10, $7.30 and $4.10. Tomy Lee paid $3.10 and $2.50, while Royal Orbit, a well-beaten third, paid $3.20.

Manchester United Regains First-Division Leadershlp

LONDON (Reuters) — The rebuilt Manchester United soccer team Saturday again reached the top of the English first division with a brilliant display by its new young stars and a deciding goal by one of its veterans 30 seconds from the end.

The "Busby Babes" edged defending league champion Wolverhampton Wanderers 2-1 and pulled into a first-place tie on points with the losers. The Wolves retain the lead on goal average.

The dazzling speed of the young Manchester line proved too much for Wolverhampton's defence in one of the season's crucial games.

Manchester United now has won 12 straight games on its march back to the top. Bobby Charlton, survivor of the Munich plane disaster a year ago this month that killed eight of the team's stars, blasted in the winning goal before 62,000 fans at Manchester.

Unlucky Arsenal, crippled with injuries, held on to third place with a 1-1 tie against West Bromwich Albion. Playing without goalie Jack Kelsey, who broke his arm in a game Wednesday, Arsenal got the tie with a goal by Len Julians, who Monday starts a 14-day suspension for rough play.

Bolton Wanderers took over fourth place by finally beating Preston North End 2-1 in the third successive game between the two clubs. They clash for the fourth time in 10 days Monday in the second replay of their Football Association Cup fifth round game.

At the other end of the division, Tottenham Hotspur and Portsmouth tied 4-4 in a stirring relegation battle. Reserve centre forward Jim Saunders scored a second-half hat trick for last-place Portsmouth.

In the second division, the big battle was at Sheffield, where the city's two big teams met, with United beating Wednesday 1-0 on a goal by Derek Pace. For Sheffield United, only second division team left in the cup fight, it was the 17th win in the last 19 games. Wednesday, despite the loss, retained its second-division lead and chances for promotion.

In Scotland, Rangers strengthened their grip on the first-division championship by beating Sterling Albion 3-0. They now are six points ahead of Motherwell, which lost 2-0 at Clyde.
